ACTION ON LAND FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL EXPECTED MONDAY NIGHT

Sufficient land to provide adequate high school facilities for the Warren Area Jointure probably will be left up to the Warren Area Joint Committee if the Warren Area Joint School board grants such authority at its meeting Monday evening. The committee at its regular meeting this week voted to recommend that the board give it authority to buy as many of the available acres as it feels is necessary.

There are over fifty acres in the several properties which border each other on and east of the borough line near Fifth ave., E. A minimum of twenty-eight acres were recommended by the architect.

Estimated costs for roads and utilities for the proposed new high school were presented to the joint committee of the Warren Area Joint School Board when it convened Monday evening.

Mr. Ed Werle, a representative of the Erie architectural firm Meyers, Krider, Werle and Ellenberger which was hired by the committee at the February meeting to draw up plans for the new school, was present Monday to show maps of the property and possible roads to the site.

The architect listed several possibilities that would range in cost from $27,300 to $61,000. These figures could vary when a more accurate topographical survey is made and also whether or not the gravel on the so-called Swick site could be used in construction.

Two of the approaches named by Mr. Werle are located just above the borough line on Fifth avenue, one is a quarter of a mile above the boundary line, and another entrance or exit mentioned would come off Glade avenue.

In regard to utilities, Mr. Werle gave approximate costs of $1900 for a water line from Orchard street, plus an additional $25,000 for pumps and other accessories; $2670 for sanitary sewers providing a hook-up can be arranged with Warren borough; and no additional cost for electricity and gas.

At the conclusion of this report the joint committee approved the buildings and grounds committee recommendation to use for the new school properties belonging to Swick (the western portion), Rudolph, Link (portion out of borough), Valone (portion out of borough), Anderson, Nuhfer, and Huber-Raedaker. Actually all or several of these may be used and some only in part. Further action on this matter will be considered at the Joint Board meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday in Beaty library.

Payment of bills were approved in the amounts of $950.75, janitors' overtime; $374.58, substitute teachers; $987.30, special services; $436.40, orders written during the month; $4,388.13 bills incurred. A cafeteria report indicated an expense of $4,482.80, and cost of services was $1,722.40.

Permission was given Dan Goldthwaite, science teacher at Beaty, to attend the national convention of science teachers in Cleveland March 20-23; Leroy Peck to be a representative at the state safety education meeting in Harrisburg April 5-6; and Mrs. Arlene Whitehill, high school home economics instruction, to attend the first meeting of the state Homemakers curriculum committee on March 28-29. The latter was just recently named to this group.

Miss Evelyn Brehm, a guidance instructor of Abington, Pa., will be in Warren to meet with the Beaty Fund teachers on April 8, and on March 28. A. J. McDonnell and Paul Myers of the fund group team will attend a session in Toms River, N. J.

The committee also approved paying supervisors for Friday night recreational supervision at the Youth Canteen from March 4 to June 8, and September 1 to December 31. Supervisors are Dan Stimmel and James Fales. This involves 240 hours at two dollars an hour or a total of $480.

It was reported that sump pumps had been placed in the Beaty boiler room; that the recommendations of the Dept. of Labor and Industry representative for Beaty and South Street machine shops are being made; a rheumatic fever victim in Clarendon is receiving in-home training; the attendance for February was average, 93 per cent for 3,713 pupils.

The 1957 commencement exercises will be held June 6 on Beaty school lawn (in auditorium if there is inclement weather) and the baccalaureate service will be in the Grace Methodist Church on June 2.

Two classes in adult drivers' education were approved with Leroy Peck and Harry Spackman as instructors.

A memorandum from the Warren Education association expressed its members' appreciation for the present salary schedule.

$111,000 Approved For Warren Paving In 1957

The paving of Hazel, Lexington, Ludlow, McPherson, Seneca, Madison, and Plum, and the resurfacing of Fourth ave. at a total cost of $111,000 were approved by Warren's boro council Monday evening when a series of ordinances were passed. The new paving will cost about $92,000 and the resurfacing of Fourth, $19,000.

Plum st. was added to the list when it was learned that the state will not widen Jackson st. this year. The Plum st. paving will cost $12,000. It was decided to do as much of Fourth as possible, depending on the bid. Though it is planned to resurface from 200 feet east of Market to Beech st., the resurfacing will be continued west as far as the $19,000 will go.

Two sirens were purchased for civilian defense. A Thunderbolt and an S. D. 10 at a cost of $3,314 will be delivered by the Federal Siren and Signal Corp., of Jamestown, low bidder among three.

Juvenile playground climbing pipe structures were purchased from the Recreation Equipment Co., of Anderson, Ind., for $710. The price for five of the units was lower than three competitors.

Daylight saving was recommended, starting at 2 a.m. April 28, and lasting until October 28. Efforts by Councilmen Carbon and Juliano to have it terminated a month early to help school children were fruitless.

Engineer DeBell reported that the Third ave. resurfacing was not holding up but that the contractor and supplier would make the necessary repairs at no cost to the borough.

Council approved the seal-coating

WARREN BOY CHOIR

The tenth anniversary of the Warren Boy Choir will be observed with a gala concert in Beaty auditorium on the evenings of March 30 and April 1.

At this time director Byron Swanson and the choir will present an entirely new program ranging from the classics of Mozart, Bach, and Brahms to the popular show tunes and songs of the jazz era.

of the Warren airport runway at a cost of $10,000, half of which will be paid by the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

The old truck scales were sold to Louis Segel and Son who out-bid three others with a price of $325.

Approval was given to the appointment of Frank Viola, Jr. and Earle A. Nollinger as provisional hosemen, and the resignation of Carl J. DeStefano from the fire department was accepted. A two-week military leave was granted Policeman Donald E. Fitch.

Rules and regulations for ambulances operating in Warren were approved, and the special committee was discharged. The rules establish $1 licenses for ambulance owners and the attendants. Specifications for the vehicles are included and the equipment which must be carried is itemized. Training prerequisites for drivers and assistants and minimum insurance coverages are specified.

A letter from the Warren Area Joint School committee was read. Council was asked to decide if it would make an exception to its rule concerning the use of sewers by residents outside the borough limits to accommodate the new high school which might lie just outside the border on Fifth ave. President Laskaris said he would ask the engineer and the public works committee to study the problem and come up with a written report.

SEWAGE PLANT FOR WARREN IS MADE POSSIBLE BY SANITARY AUTHORITY

A Warren boro sanitary authority was created by the Warren council Monday night to spend about $1,500,000 on a sewage plant and the completion of the system which will make it effective. Much of the sewer work already has been done and the land has been purchased. About $250,000 of the remaining cost will be paid by the federal government. Named on the authority were A.

L. Rasmussen, five years term; Floyd Clinger, four years; Robert Kopf, three years; Robert E. Dunham, two years, and C. J. Crary, one year. The municipal corporation will be formed by the burgess, William E. Rice, the members of council, and the borough secretary, George Geracimos.

Its purpose will be to build and operate a sewage system. The authority will take any steps needed to bring this about, and will lease the system to Warren boro. When it is paid for, it will become the property of Warren and the authority will be dissolved.

The ordinance creating the authority was introduced by Councilman Frantz who said that the state is bearing down on all communities in an effort to enforce the clean streams law. He said Warren has filed for the federal help and that the state department of health probably would approve it. He also said that other bond issues apparently were about to be made and if Warren boro acted quickly enough it might obtain a lower rate.

HOW'S FISHING?

We can't predict how fishing will be in 1957, but we can tell you what has been done about it. At least we can report what has been done in this area during the past year.

Five trout streams in Warren county have been removed from the fish commission's approved list. Two of these, Wilson and McGuire, have been declared too short. Coffee creek, Lamb and Phelps runs have been removed because of poor physical and biological characteristics.

You people who fish the Tionesta dam lake will be interested to learn that four thousand muskie fingerlings, 8 to 12 inches, were placed in four lakes in the area, including Tionesta. Others were Conneaut, Moshannon, and Bald Eagle.

In an effort to learn which stocking method is the most effective, native trout are being separated from stocked fish by either placing jaw tags on the hatchery trout or clipping a fin off them. Experimental streams are chosen and the trout are stocked in a variety of ways.

With the cooperation of fishermen it is learned which method produces the greatest percentage of return. Four Mile creek in Warren county has been chosen for such experimenting in 1957. Trout in this stream will be jaw tagged and will be stocked in season only.

A similar experiment is going on in Salmon run in Forest county. This was started last year with every trout stocked having a complete fin clipped. This will continue for five years. Anglers were interviewed during the opening days and during the peak week ends.

It was learned that it takes the average fisherman about ten hours to catch a trout in Salmon run. Of the fish reported, 551 were stocked and 76 were not stocked last year. For real results it will require the full five years of checking.

We also thought it was interesting to note that the number of trout placed in Salmon last year was 1102 rainbows and 2342 browns. Of those reported, 290 were rainbows and 261 were browns. Suggesting that here is proof of the difficulty anglers have hooking the brownies.

Warren county didn't benefit by the fishing out of Sanctuary lake and the Union City reservoir. These areas never have been open to fishing and it was believed the many bass reported in them would be more valuable if removed to waters where fishermen could enjoy them.

This provided some real sport for the wardens. Inasmuch as bass can not be netted, they had to be fished out. Thanks to the cool summer, the mortality rate was very low and nearly 2600 largemouth bass were removed. Of these, 564 came from Union City, and the rest from the Pymatuning sanctuary. They were stunted and undersized. More fishing will be done from these areas each year and it is believed the removal will result in better specimens.

Some new fishing has been provided those who like trout in Warren county. Tests of water flow, temperature, cover, pool and riffle ratio, and the proportion of shade resulted in adding two miles of fishing to Big Brokenstraw and seven miles to Tionesta creek. Four miles of Thompson run also will be added.

All fishermen in the area are aware of what was done to Chapman dam last November. The fish were killed off with poisoning. Of the five tons taken away, the bulk of them were common white suckers. All of the others comprised only fifteen per cent of the total.

Chapman dam now will be managed as a trout lake only. Rainbow adults are being stocked this spring, and fingerlings will be planted in the fall. Minnows can not be used in this water, nor can they be in your possession while fishing there.

Jaw tagged smallmouth bass revealed an interesting fact in the Lake LeBeouf water. Bass stocked in this lake migrated down French creek and then into the Allegheny river. Tags were returned by fishermen on French creek and the river.

are not enough jaw tags available to do the entire job, fin clipping is being done until the supply is sufficient.

You can help by mailing your tags or reporting finless fish to the Regional Office, Box 428, Conneautville. Or you can turn them over to district wardens. They also would like to know the date on which the fish was caught, the species, and the location.

CURIOS TRAVELERS. This group of young adults from London, England, was temporarily stranded in Warren last Friday with a pair of flat tires, but were graciously accommodated by Nichols garage and sent on their way.

The quartet left Toronto, Canada, March 4, with their personal belongings and $50 each to start a tour across the United States. Their reason: "We heard so much about the U. S., we wanted to really see what it was like".

They arrived in Canada last November and earned money enough to purchase a car and a little expense money to start out on.

BROKEN LADDER. The ladder broke from under the Northern Area Knights last night to bring to an end any climb to further titles.

Section Class C champions, the Knights were eliminated in the District 10 playoff with Fairview by a 55-47 outcome on the Corry hardwood.

Absent from the picture are James Darts, Ted Holt and Lefty Olson.

CAGE PLAYOFFS

The District 10 cage title will be at stake on the Farrell hardwood Saturday night when Erie Strong Vincent of Section One faces the Section Three winner Grove City. The Erie five last Friday knocked off Meadville, of Section Two, 74-69, to advance in the playoffs.

Last night at Corry Northern Area's hopes were stopped 55-47 by Fairview in the District 10 Class C finals. The fast starting Erie area team put the Knights in the hole 30-16 the first half and coasted from there. Hetz had 27 for Fairview and Bud Rowland tallied 18 for the Knights.

Sheffield, Class C champs of the Allegheny Mountain circuit, was also stopped in the initial playoff in District Nine. Sykesville did the trick 63-50 with a last period burst. The District title is at stake tonight at Clarion-Limestone, where the Sykes meet Chicora.

In District 10 Class B Girard edged Conneaut Valley 46-44; unbeaten Sharon took Scott 53-34 in the WPIAL quarter finals; and St. Marys, AML champs in Class B of District 9, was beaten 62-59 by Port Allegany in a northern tier contest.

TWO GRAPPLERS WIN

Two of Warren's three contenders won District 10 wrestling titles in Erie last week end and will now compete in the regional event at Clearfield on Saturday.

The District champions are Gail Page, a 103-pounder, and Don Brian, a three-year veteran who goes 127. Harry Brooker, the other Dragon contender at Erie lost a close decision.

YMCA TOURNEY

The semi-finals of the YMCA Invitational tournament will be staged on the "Y" court tonight with Emersons against the Warren high seniors and Sheffield meeting the Warren sophomores and juniors. Tip-off time for the first game is 7:15.

The soph-junior squad figured in a 66-60 second round victory over Bovas last night and Sheffield downed the Church All-Stars 82-39, thus eliminating two teams. Remainder of the nine teams beaten out include Tidioute Indies, Guiffres and the Unknowns.

Championship finals for the tourney are listed for 9 o'clock Friday night.

UNKNOWN ARE CHAMPS

In the final of a best of three play-off series for the YMCA-City league championship last Thursday night the Unknowns became famous with an 82-68 victory over the Knights of Columbus aggregation.

Area Sports

CHAMPIONS. Unbeaten in 12 consecutive league games, the Jefferson school cage team has claimed possession of the 1956-57 Gray-Y basketball crown.

The squad is made up of (l. to r.) front--Jack Kifer, Chuck Arm-

McCLINTOCK FLOORMEN in the Gra-Y loop this year were (l. to r.) Toni Creola, George Loranger, James Johnson, Gary Holcomb, and Ricky Arnold.

PURPOSE OF GIRL SCOUT WEEK: To celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. It always includes March 12, anniversary of the day in 1912 when Juliette Gordon Low called together the little group of 12 girls in Savannah, Georgia, who voted to set up the first Girl Scout troop.

This year, Tuesday, March 12, is the 45th Girl Scout anniversary or "birthday" and will be marked by special Girl Scout Birthday observances.

MISS DAWN TAFT

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday announced the selection of Miss Dawn Taft, a member of the Warren high school faculty, as Warren's 1957 Youth Ambassador.

A native of Warren, she started teaching here this term after graduating from Allegheny College.

Miss Taft will journey to Europe this summer and upon returning will share her experiences with local organizations who help underwrite the trip.

The Ambassador project is wholly financed by the community, with a goal of $1100. Group or individual contributions can be mailed to the Jaycees, Box 147, Warren, Pa.

In Brief

DEADLINE. Although Monday is the final day for candidates in the May 21st Primary election to file petitions, most will take up to the limit before officially tossing their hat in the ring.

As of late Wednesday afternoon ten candidates had filed in the Warren borough race for councilman. They were, first ward -- Ralph E. Anderson (R); second -- Warren E. Miller (R), incumbent; fourth -- John Carbon (R), incumbent, and Arthur B. White (D); fifth -- Karl G. Timm (R); sixth -- Paul W. Yagge (R), incumbent, and Anthony Tomassoni (R); seventh -- Richard Meacham (R); eighth -- Maurice R. Emery (R), incumbent; ninth -- Nick Merenick (R), incumbent, and Richard Tucker (R).

Others who have filed for borough posts are Martha G. Lawson (R), justice of the peace; G. M. Ostergard (R), tax collector; W. Scott Calderwood (R), school director; William E. Rice (R), incumbent, burgess.

A glance again at the council picture. The Democrats have expressed the intention to run a candidate in each ward, but there is still a shadow in some localities. Those who have said yes are Tom Conway, third; Jack Larson, fifth; Frank Fago, eighth; and William Schulmann, a likely in the sixth.

Republicans with definite intentions are incumbent John Newmaker, first; incumbent J. G. Smith, third; incumbent C. T. Berdine, fifth.

Two other office holders with opposition within the GOP party are Ed C. Lowrey, coroner, who is being opposed by Edward MacKenzie, and Meyer Kornreich, district attorney, with Atty. Samuel F. Bonavita as a candidate.

LATE ACCIDENT. The intersection of Conewango ave. and Third st. was the scene of a one-car accident at 12:47 this morning, when Donald Walters, 408 Crescent Park, struck a utility pole. He was proceeding south at the time.

The driver, who suffered a fractured left leg and possible chest injuries, was arrested for traveling too fast for conditions. Damage to the car amounted to $500.

SPRING SALE. Starting one week from today on March 21 and continuing on Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23, over 40 Warren merchants will present a Spring Opening sale.

Going along with the opening of the Spring season, the retailers will appropriately display the newest in spring styles and fashions.

Participating merchants are asked to advise the Chamber office of their plans for the three day event and are reminded that window banners and special posters will be available at the Chamber office early next week.

APPROACHING '500'. The 500-member goal of the Warren Chamber of Commerce in 1957 came a step closer Tuesday night when the directors accepted ten new members into the organization.

It is the feeling of the group that 500 members are needed so the Chamber will have an adequate budget and manpower to carry on its program of work.

The board also Tuesday night agreed to sponsor the Ralph D. Myrick Sales Clinic this spring for salespeople representing retail, commercial and industrial selling. Mr. Myrick is an instructor of salesmanship and sales administration at the University of Buffalo.

A NEW YORK CITY man escaped injury last Thursday when he failed to negotiate a curve on Route 62 about seven miles south of Warren and ripped out eight guard rails. Driver of the auto, which suffered $1600 damage, was Alden MacDonald.

NEARING ITS GOAL for the 1956 campaign to add $5,000 to the permanent endowment fund is the Warren County Probation association. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., in reporting to the Rotary club Monday, stated $4,639.86 has been received to date. This leaves a balance of $360.14 to be obtained. The present balance in the fund is $14,000.

The income from this fund is returned to the Warren County Probation association and delivered by its officers to the county commissioners for the purpose of improving the probation system for juveniles in Warren County.

SIXTY-SEVEN CASES are now under care by the Warren Visiting Nursing association. This includes 11 new cases in February.

SCOUT TALK. Elmer Morgan, Chief Cornplanter council executive, has been selected as an instructor for the biennial conference of scout executives of Region III Boy Scouts of America. He will be working in a clinic on "How to Get Maximum Production from Operating Committee Effort!"

Also listed to attend the March 25-29 conference at Buck Hill Falls is field executive Richard Bauer.

COLLEGE TALK. A Denison University sophomore, Sally Saunders, is a dancer in the chorus of "Kiss Me Kate", the 1957 Bonds of Friendship show to be presented March 15-16 at the university. The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Saunders, Rt. 2, Warren. The proceeds from this annual show go to various charities.

MEN IN SERVICE. Army 2nd Lt. James W. Cooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooney, 102 Brook st., Warren, was recently assigned to the 565th Transportation Terminal Service company. The Warren man, a 1956 graduate from John Carroll University, entered the Army in November 1956.

Richard H. Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Hoover, Rt. 1, Warren, completed recruit training March 8 at the Marine Corps recruit depot, Parris Island, S.C.

A first solo flight was made February 18 by Naval Aviation Cadet Richard M. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nelson, Route 1, Pittsfield. He is stationed at Saufley Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

PERSONALITIES. A Chamber of Commerce delegation, consisting of president Paul Harrington, exec. sec. Charles Tranter, George Redding and Leroy Schneck, were in Harrisburg Monday to attend a legislative clinic and recognition dinner honoring Pennsylvania legislators. The local men were joined by Senator L. E. Chapman and Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson for the evening dinner.

H. H. Husted, well known Youngsville insurance man who represents the Niagara Fire Insurance company, has just been presented with the company's engrossed scroll in token of more than 25 years' representation.

TWO PER CENT DROP. According to information supplied by 49 firms that employ 7,814 jobs in this area, it has been learned that employment in Warren County has dropped two per cent or 174 during the last 60 days. More than 80 per cent of those laid off were women who were furloughed by the manufacturing and wholesale and retail trade categories.

The employment office here has also indicated that the volume of claims for Unemployment Compensation is at the highest mark since mid-March, 1956. Approximately 350 persons were receiving jobless insurance during the last week in February.

TO SPEAK HERE. James Beatty, teacher of art in Latrobe high school, will talk on the $35,000 collection of paintings that now are on exhibit in the halls of this Pennsylvania school at a program scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Friday at Jefferson auditorium.

The Warren Art Group, which is currently engaged in a similar project to form a permanent collection of contemporary paintings in the Warren high school, is sponsoring the program.

PARKED CARS figured in two accidents in the borough of Warren this past week, with a pair of arrests following. Robert Anderson, R. D. 1, Warren, and also of 101 Beaty st., was charged for leaving the scene of an accident shortly after midnight Sunday when he struck a parked car belonging to Mrs. Alfred E. Heubach at 462 Prospect st. Police officer Willard Zerbe trailed the driver by means of a leaking radiator and apprehended him on Beaty st.

Total damage amounted to about $600. A reckless driving charge was placed against Donald Lauffenberger, 332 E. Fifth ave., after he ran into a parked car on Canton st. at 11:15 p. m. last Saturday. Owner of the parked auto was F. Willard, 623 East st.

CONTRIBUTIONS to the annual Red Cross drive in Warren County this month passed the $16,000 mark Wednesday. The goal of the campaign is over $27,000.

ENGINEERS MEET. The first three students selected for the Hammond Iron Works' scholarship program were introduced by Fred Plummer, company representative, at the annual Warren meeting of the Bucktail chapter of the National Society Professional Engineers on Tuesday evening. They were Richard Reynolds, Thomas Glosick and John Beck.

RECOGNIZED. The school education program of the Warren County Heart association has been chosen as one of three programs from the state of Pennsylvania for outstanding recognition.

Harold LaPoint, local program chairman, will have the honor of presenting the association's program to the American Heart Association Middle Atlantic regional meeting in Atlantic City May 15-16.

ACTIVITIES will start Friday at the Tiphereth Israel Congregation in Warren to celebrate Purim, or Feast of Lots. The observance falls on March 17 this year.

A program has been set up by the local congregation that extends from tomorrow through Sunday afternoon.

TICKET SALES for the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra Concert that will be staged in Warren April 10 are now on sale. This famed combination will appear at Beaty auditorium, with William Steinberg as conductor, under the sponsorship of Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

The proceeds from the concert will be used to further the swimming pool and Youth Canteen funds under the Warren Recreation Board.

The tickets are on sale at a cost of $3.00 adults and $1.00 student (limited number) at Redding & Wrhen in Warren, Sheffield Pharmacy in Sheffield, and Abraham's in Youngsville.

A DRIVE TO SELL-OUT Beaty auditorium for the annual Warren Boy Choir spring concert on March 30 and April 1 has started. This year's concert observes the tenth anniversary of the group under the direction of Byron Swanson.

An all-new program has been arranged and promises to be an outstanding event.

Warren Executive Dies Of Heart Attack

Harry A. Logan, well known Warren industrialist and founder of the United Refining Co., died suddenly of a heart attack late Wednesday evening at his Warren residence.

He was president of both the United Refining Co. and Emblem Oil Co. of Warren, and chairman of the board of the Warren Bank and Trust.

Mr. Logan had driven home and was discovered by a maid who became curious when she heard the executive's car running and he did not enter the house. The Warren Fire Dept. rushed a pectorator to the scene, but all efforts were unsuccessful.

Among those surviving are his wife, Helen; a daughter, Mrs. John P. Wendell; a son, Harry A. Logan, Jr.; and two grandchildren, all of Warren.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home.

PHIL E. STEWART

A recent participant in "exercise hard times" with the 2nd Infantry Division at Fort Richardson, Alaska, was Army specialist 3/C Phil E. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Stewart, 2 Bauer st., Warren.

Stewart, a supply specialist, graduated from Warren high school in 1954 and entered the Army in October of the same year.

CIGARETTES STRONGER

The publicity given cigarettes and their possible relation to lung, throat, and mouth cancer (and to heart trouble) apparently has lost its punch. And unfortunately, there may be more danger in cigarettes today than there was before the publicity started.

When the fear of cancer reacted on the cigarette market, causing the sale totals to drop (about 1 1/2 million people stopped smoking), the makers of fags immediately started a counter offensive. Their most effective weapon was the use of filters which they claimed removed a major share of the tar and nicotine from each deep drag you pulled into your lungs.

One brand provided a filter so effective that many smokers stopped buying it. They claimed they couldn't taste the tobacco. In fact, many brands suffered this complaint, even though their filters didn't completely stop the taste of tars, nicotine, and the other juices to be found in a tobacco leaf.

Paradoxically it is possible that the smokers of cigarettes are in greater danger today than they were before the cancer publicity cut loose. They have been lulled into a sense of security by the addition of a filter on the mouth-end of their favorite brand. But they may be inhaling even more poison than they did before.

In the days of stubby cigarettes and the open end, tobacco taste was important. You were receiving the full blast right off the leaf when you sucked inward. To keep the customers happy, flue cured tobacco was used, with a variety of methods applied so that you might find some difference in the taste.

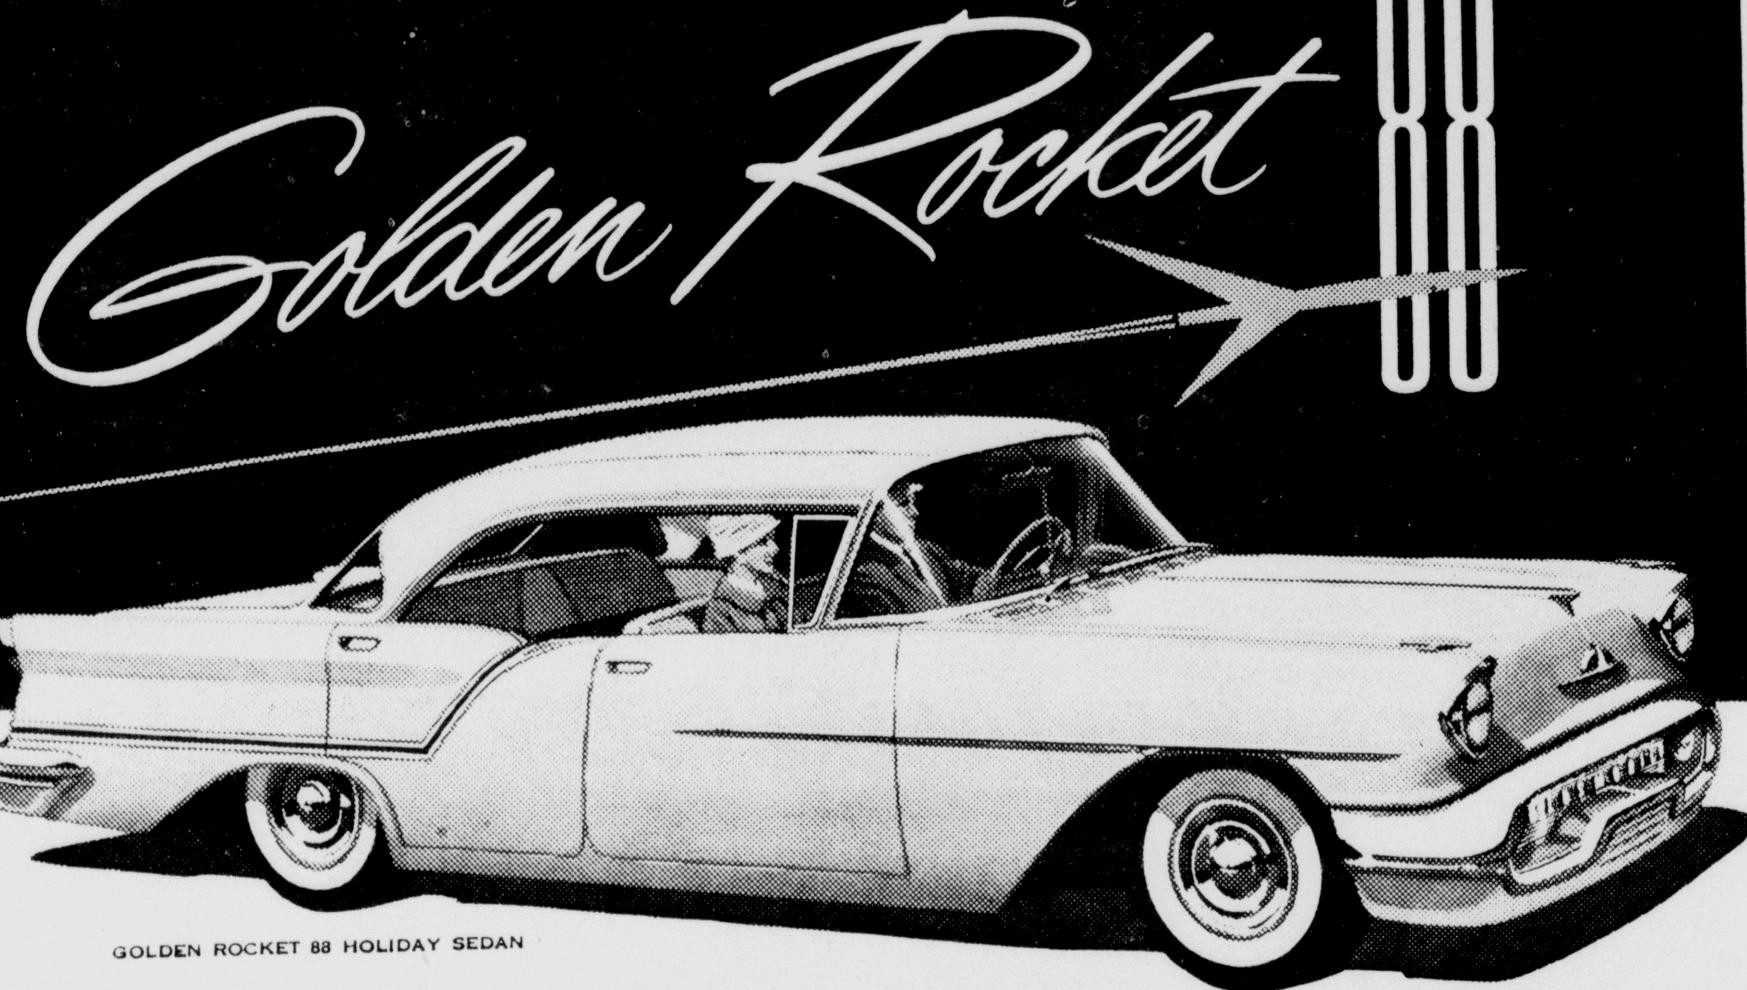

The effect on the tobacco market was that flue cured tobacco brought the premium price. Burley tobacco, which is heavy and strong-flavored, provided a small percentage of the tobacco production, and the red tips near the top of the stalk were thrown away by most tobacco farmers. The strong upper leaves were used for chewing and pipes.

The mild leaves brought about 60 cents a pound. The strong uppers were worth no more than 23 cents. And the extreme red tips were discarded.

Today, because smokers want safety, filters are used (about 33 percent of the total). But because smokers also want to taste what they smoke, the raw burley is being substituted for the flue cured. And even the red tipped leaves at the top of the stalk are being sold.

Government support has been provided for the cheaper brands in the past. It still is, but it is wasted, because today the price of the rank burley is up to over 60 cents a pound. One farmer reports recently selling the raw red tips for 66 cents a pound!

And you are smoking the rawest of the raw. The cigarette which had the complete filter has substituted a weaker one, and no doubt also has added burley to its flue cured tobacco.

It is possible that you are ending up with the same percentage of potential poison with each drag as was the case before filters and burley were used for cigarettes. You have been taken!

Next month, while you will be giving to the drive for funds with which to battle cancer, competition among those who think gambling with your health is justified if it will help their bank accounts will be also taking your money to aid the attack of cancer.

Though some may argue that cigarettes have not been definitely proved to be a cause of cancer, enough evidence has been provided to indicate that there is a relation. With this doubt before us, we fail to understand how any man can earn a living by manufacturing so questionable a product. It seems to us that it would be better to go bankrupt than to run the risk of being responsible for a single life.

AND OTHER FUMES

The same danger lies in other fumes. And we do not understand why precautions are not taken voluntarily to remove it. Certainly there is nothing healthy to be found in the fumes from a car, truck, or bus exhaust. Many leading scientists have reported that cancer is more prevalent in concentrated urban areas. The many fumes found in such sections are in great suspicion.

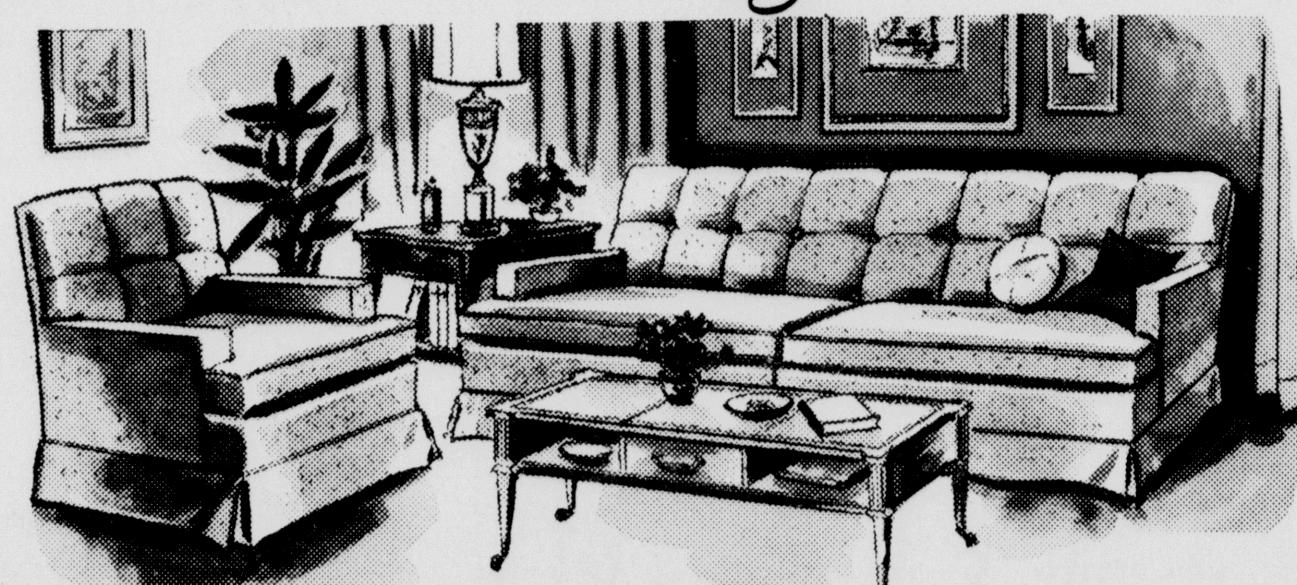

This does not mean that we must stop driving cars. But why are we doing nothing about directing the fumes, or about purifying them? Exhausts could be put through channels that would send the fumes into some models have such vents built in for looks, though they are not being used.

The modern heater or air conditioner is sucking the fumes of the car ahead of you directly into your car. The long lines of autos found on many highways suggest a continuous link of fumes passing from car to car.

This could be greatly reduced by laws which would make it necessary for all vehicles to send their fumes upward from the roof. Some busses and trucks already are doing this, and should be commended for their consideration. For the small cost involved and the possible contribution to the public's health it seems anyone in business would find this step a good investment.

Among those present were (l. to r.) John Salomon, past grand knight; Steve Krogler, grand knight; the Rev. Fr. James Cannon, professor of Latin and Greek at St. Mary's Minor Seminary in North East, the guest speaker; Ben Malec, Catholic activities chairman; and Dick Bove, toastmaster.

A FINE TURNOUT was on hand for the K. of C. Father-Daughter communion-breakfast Sunday morning.

SERVICE AWARDS. Over 350 length of service award pins were presented by D. E. Conaway, president of Pennsylvania Gas Co., at three separate ceremonies this past week end.

Several divisions from this area were represented at one of these affairs held at Beaty Junior high school Saturday evening, when employees of the company with 25 or more years of service were recognized.

The company's oldest employee in point of service was Archie S. Brown, of Roystone Station, who received a 45-year pin.

David Miller 30 years, Paul W. Elwinger 30, Howard A. Smith 30, Leonard L. Noble, August R. Peterson 40, William H. Locke 30, Arthur T. Hanson 30, Melvin L. Johnson 35, and Albin O. Latt 35.

Second row—James F. Donaghy 30, Neil B. Donovan 30, Earl C. Christensen 40, Andrew L. Bair 30, Sonny R. Nelson 25, Donald E. Conaway 30, Norman A. Johnson 25, Bernard H. Joy 30, Paul J. Swanson 25, Byron G. Hamm 30, and Glenn R. Mickelson 25.

Third row—Burton A. Ryberg 30, Milton A. Peterson 25, Russell H. Hoover 25, Wilbert D. McElwain 30, and Warren I. Wilson 25. Robley E. Hook also was awarded a 30-year pin and Michael H. Cashmere, 25-year.

HELP NEEDED

We never have been able to understand why the Warren area school boards which have several million dollars worth of property to maintain do not have a salaried plant engineer with at least one or two well trained assistants. Certainly there is as much property involved as is the case with Warren borough which spends over $8,000 for basic engineering, plus special fees for various projects, plus superintendents for departments, who receive about $5,000 a year each.

The school budget is larger than the borough's and the property is very valuable. It seems that a two or three thousand dollar salary increase for the position of top man in the building superintendent department would be well spent as a protection to our investment.

 THOSE STEEP CLIMBS

The architect presented some facts about the approaches to the proposed new high school when he appeared before the joint committee Monday. These are facts that are suspiciously missing from other reports we have seen and heard.

The walks leading up to the school would be only a 11 per cent grade. The state sets a limit of 20 per cent. You can see we are well down the line and far less steep than many Warren streets.

The car entrance to the school property probably would have no grade at all if one route is approved. Another would have a very slight one. The exit by way of Glade ave. would have a 10 per cent grade, also far less than many Warren streets.

 COMMUNITY EFFORT?

The quibbling that is being hinted about hooking the new high school onto the borough sewage system suggests that the juveniles in this situation are not those attending school. Warren borough should do nothing to hinder the improvement of our schools. If it requires an entirely new sewer pipe leading down from the school site to the new sewage system, so what?

And we probably shouldn't mention it, but let us not forget that the entire population of the school will not be visiting the rest room at the same time . . . even if so inclined.

 TOPSY?

In regards to that sewage problem, we note that one reporter wrote that the school population would be 1700! If that is true, the room schedule will require a complete overhauling and the auditorium figure is far out of line.

 ON YOUR MARK

This race suggested by some concerning the issuing of bonds must sound ridiculous to those who will help pay off both of them. Whether the sewage plant or the school bonds come out first, you will pay the bill. If you never have beat yourself before, you are about to have a new experience.

 MAY COST NOTHING

Misleading publicity has been given to the cost of moving the gas line on the proposed Warren high school site. The fact is no one knows what it will cost. If all of it is moved it will cost $4,000. But maybe only part of it will be moved. And maybe none of it. Some people go down fighting with their red herrings waving.

 NOW'S THE TIME

We liked Councilman Frantz's suggestion that Madison paving be made wide enough to provide for the future. If we do it now the property owners pay their third. If we widen it later, you know who pays all of it.

And if it is practical to lay new paving on Plum st. in varying widths, why isn't it practical for Madison?

COSTLY MISTAKE

Councilman Juliano is costing the local taxpayer a husky bit of money by insisting that the borough resurface Fourth ave. Over a mill of money is being wasted that could be used on strictly local streets.

This street is used by many trucks and cars that are going through Warren and know the short-cut. More will use it when it is smoothed up.

If Fourth is to be made inviting to highway traffic why shouldn't the state add it to its system and pay the cost? Also the maintenance and snow-clearing bills.

The railroad and state are using it, let them pay for it.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO MAIL ORDERS

it takes both WORK and MONEY to get an education in 1957

More work and more money than was needed ten or twenty years ago. Yet our children need a thorough education more than ever, to make their way in this complex world. That's where your Bank usually can be of help. If you have an education problem, let us show you how little it will cost to solve it, the BANK way.

AMERICANS GOING SOFT?

In magazines and on television we have seen some so-called fishermen who apparently haven't the slightest conception of the true meaning of the sport. Like the soft royalty in decaying kingdoms of the past, they recline in snug seats, elbow to elbow, and do no more than sit there and pull 'em in.

It would not surprise us if the hook is baited and the fish removed by attendants. If this is fishing the sport will die. Those participating surely will become bored and take up tiddly winks, if someone will tiddle the winks for them.

The real sport of fishing is lost to the people, and the benefits are escaping them. The real fisherman enjoys finding his chosen spot on the stream or lake. He revels in knowing where and when they will bite. And he benefits by the little exercise that may be required to move a boat or walk along the shore.

No real fisherman is afraid of a little weather. He enjoys pounding a trout stream in the rain, going after them through the ice, and lugging his boat around the riffles.

We can remember hiking seven miles over the mountain to the head of a trout stream before we started fishing in those youthful years when a pair of legs were not aware of the word "tired". And then we started whipping the water, an exercise that continued throughout the day as we worked the entire length of the stream.

You may say that this was fine for a youngster, but it is different with the elderly ones. To which we must answer that the last time we fished the full length of Morrison run, after hiking to the head by way of the Hearts Content road, we were accompanied by two gentlemen. One was in his sixties. The other in his fifties.

That is fishing!

This soft approach also is creeping into other sports, such as golf, where carts are being promoted as a medium of getting those aching bones around the course. We were pleased a summer or two ago when an elderly gentleman who loves the sport and has had much to do with promoting it was asked if he would like one. His answer was, "When I have to go around the course in one of those I will give up the game. I'm out here for exercise."

Those cuddled souls we saw cushioned into protecting stalls on the long pier, with a line of poles extending out over the water, certainly had no thought of exercise. They want to play that parlor fishing game, but they want the toy pieces to wriggle realistically when drawn in.

It isn't just a question of whether Americans are going soft. The

JANIEC TO DIRECT

Henry Janiec, young American conductor, will be at Chautauqua this summer, with the Chautauqua Opera Association orchestra performing under his baton. He received his bachelor and master's degrees from Oberlin and has worked with Jean Paul Morel and Leonard Bernstein. He conducted the premiere of Mennini's "The Rope". He is conducting at Converse College and has had engagements with the Boston Pops, and numerous festivals.

 AWARD WINNER

A book written with a Northwestern Pennsylvania background has won the Newbery Award, which is given by the American Library Association's children's section for the most distinguished contribution to literature for children. It was written by Mrs. Virginia Sorenson, wife of an Edinboro Normal professor.

Name of the book is Miracles On Maple Hill. It is fiction and concerns a family which comes to a farm in this area because of the father's health. A Korean prisoner of war camp casualty, he chooses the farm life to rehabilitate himself. The farm life of this area is very well portrayed, according to reviewers.

trouble is that too many of us already are.

STRATFORD FESTIVAL

The Stratford Shakespearean festival will start its fifth annual season on July 1, and will run until September 7. The Stratford third annual season of music will start July 31 and will run until September 6.

The Stratford international film festival will last from July 8 until July 20, and will have premieres of outstanding films from Canada, United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, and Italy.

The Shakespearean festival company will do Hamlet and Twelfth Night. The musical portion of the season will be provided by the English Opera Group which will give The Turn of the Screw. The C.B.C. Symphony orchestra will be heard, the jazz concerts will be given by Count Basie, Billie Holiday, the Ron Collier Quintet, The Gerry Mulligan Quartet, and The Teddy Wilson Trio.

A neat little booklet has been published explaining the Stratford festival, listing the dates for each attraction, and giving all details, even to the seating plan, a map of Stratford, a map showing how to get there, and hotel accommodations. You can obtain one, and any other information you want, by writing

The Stratford Shakespearean Festival, 109 Erie Street, Stratford, Ontario. The box office opened Monday, with 200,000 tickets ready for mail order.

ORGANIST COMING

Though the Warren First Presbyterian church organ has been formally introduced to the public, heard it at that time, and probably many who didn't, should be pleased to learn that Carl Weinrich will give a recital in the church, March 25. Mr. Weinrich is one of the country's leading organists. He at the present time is university organist and choir master at Princeton university. His recital will be given on a Monday evening, probably about 8:15, and should provide an opportunity for many to attend.

RUSSIAN FILM

A motion picture of the Soviet Union in full color will be one of the major attractions at Chautauqua this summer. Neil Douglas, American explorer, made the film in 1956 and it should tell us much about the people of that nation. He also will show a color film of New Germany. A member of the American Geographical Society, the American Polar Society, and the Swiss Alpine Club, Mr. Douglas should be able to present an inter-

Hospital Board Adopts $100,000 Project

The recommendation of the special projects committee to remodel the old maternity building into a chronic illness and rehabilitation center was approved by the Warren General Hospital board of directors in a Tuesday session.

The project is expected to cost between 100 and 125 thousand dollars, including new equipments, beds and furniture.

It was revealed that the officials will use as much of the $54,400 Ford Foundation grant as necessary, but will first apply for funds from the Hill-Burton Act, a federal grant.

Board members will consider an architect at the next meeting, as well as a new name for the building.

ORIENTATION sessions for members who have joined the Jaycees within the past year are currently being conducted by club of ficials. Present at a Monday night meeting at the YMCA rooms were Robert Clinger, George Ferver, vice president Dick Munch, Ronald Howard, vice president Dick Cook, president Bill Geiger and James Fales.

IN OBSERVANCE of Girl Scout Sunday March 10, the Girl Scouts of the North Warren area turned out in a large number at the North Warren Presbyterian Church service.

POLITICS NOT NEEDED

We could use much less politics in that State Highway Department. There has been noticeably poor service in many areas since the change of politics in Harrisburg.

This is not a criticism of the Democrats. It is a criticism of the spoils system as applied to one of the most important services in the nation today. A service on which our lives and our living depend.

That service cost us $255,911,620 for construction, reconstruction, and resurfacing in the last biennium. And in addition we spent $73,451,666 for maintenance work on 41,208 miles of state highway.

This is most obvious when the Democrats take over because the Republicans are in so long that they develop trained personnel. But the choice of professional engineers, engineer assistants, and all of the skilled labor required to efficiently operate costly vehicles and equipment should not be done on a political basis.

Governor George Leader is proposing a civil service law to assure job security. This won't please the Republicans because they no doubt would prefer to establish such a law when they are in power.

But it is a major part of the answer and should apply to all state employees. For example, we employ 210 psychiatrists but we need 480. We have 1300 psychiatric nurses, but we need twice that many, we have 78 psychologists and need 120, we have 130 psychiatric social workers and want 400. Our highway department needs 1500 engineers and assistants. We now have less than a third the men we need.

Employees are difficult to find in any case, but without job security the best are rarely available.

 GAS RATES SPIRAL

Another in the continuing series of requests for utility price increases was announced this week by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company. It wants an annual increase of $6,540,000 through a 12-1/2 per cent increase in rates, according to G. O. McKinley, company manager.

This will average 74 cents a month for typical non-heating customers and $1.90 a month of the heating customers, the company claims. The big jump is in the first thousand feet used, about 75 cents.

The company says that it needs $23,500,000 for new facilities this year and most of this will be raised through new investors who must be convinced of a fair return on their money. The new rate requests will do this, it says.

We should think it would. The gas company publicity continually says that its profits are increasing every year even at present rates, and the stock earnings continually rise. These publicity releases should get together.

This is the standard argument used so successfully by the utilities. They expect present customers to help pay for expansion costs. It makes you wonder how they got started in the first place when there were no customers. But it always works and the utilities commission will give them a major share of what they ask, no matter how often they ask for it.

 CURING RATE INCREASES

We especially enjoy another kind of rate increase. This has to do with the Warren state hospital which now is discharging all new admissions at a rate of 84.6 per cent. This does not include those over sixty years of age. Back in the early days of the rate study, between 1920 and 1925 the rate of discharges was 57 per cent. Ten years ago it was about 75 per cent.

Dr. Robert H. Israel, superintendent of the hospital, and his staff of 31 physicians believe the improvement is due to three fac-

GOOD INVESTMENT

An investment in natural gas common stocks is a wise step even if increased prices for the fuel are not granted. Last month the average annual dividend payment on gas common stocks increased for the seventh consecutive month. Final prices of gas common stock in February were ten per cent higher than the level of a year ago.

Using thirty natural gas common stocks as an example, they averaged $36.92 in value during February of 1956, and paid an average dividend of $1.74.

In this past February they had

THIS COULD BE DONE

Early in March NBC started a series of educational television programs to run thirteen weeks now and to resume next October for another thirteen-week period. NBC's $300,000 gift to educational TV covers three areas — mathematics, government and music. The ETV partnership rounds out the curriculum with Educational Television and Radio Center providing two programs on literature and economic geography.

NBC is doing a great public service in this field but we believe the area could be enlarged. The programs are going out to educational stations on the network's regular facilities each week day from 6:30 to 7 p. m., a time when the network's commercial program service is not in operation.

There are only a limited number of ETV stations, none servicing this area. But WRCA-TV, in New York, is presenting the series on a delayed basis via kinescope film recordings. NBC could give television a big lift by making this set-up available to its stations in this area.

CHANNEL CHATTER

TWO NEW ONES

Two more new programs will hit the channels next fall. A filmed series by Screen Gems has signed movie star Scott Brady for the title role in "Johnny Nighthawk". All about a freelance airplane pilot. Topping all horse operas will be ABC's new filmed series with a horse for the hero. Called "Snowfire".

STEVE "LONGFELLOW" ALLEN
Steve Allen's first volume of poetry, called "Wry on the Rocks", has been entered by his publishers in the current Pulitzer prize contest. Contest winners will be announced in May.

MONTGOMERY DISAPPEARS

Instead of "Robert Montgomery Presents" on NBC-TV next fall we will have a 90-minute mystery drama series on the Monday night spot. Alfred Hitchcock has signed to do some of the shows although he will not appear in person. The Montgomery show is in its eighth year.

CURE FOR TAX INSOMNIA

If you have been spending sleepless nights due to income tax insomnia, KDKA-TV has the cure. Channel 2 is presenting a series of four, fifteen-minute informative programs at noon on Sundays. The first appeared March 10 and emphasized deductions and personal exemptions. Subsequent programs will be on March 25, April 7 and 14.

DIAL SPINNERS

KATHARINE CORNELL will co-star with Charles Boyer in "There Shall Be No Night" on Hallmark Hall of Fame (NBC) Sunday, March 17 from 7:30 to 9 p. m. The Robert E. Sherwood drama of a fine family caught in a Communist invasion has been rewritten and brought up to date, the locale and situation switched from the Russian invasion of Finland in 1939 to the recent events in Hungary. Miss Cornell plays the part of Miranda, the American wife of scientist and Nobel prize winner Charles Boyer.

ALFRED LUNT and LYNN FONTANNE will make their television debut on the April 1 Producers' Showcase adaptation of their latest play, "The Great Sebastian".

IN THE FREEMAN CASE on the Joseph Cotten Show-On Trial (Friday, March 15, NBC, 9 p. m.) a dim-witted boy kills a family of five and is defended by William Seward (Joseph Cotten) who later becomes Secretary of State under President Lincoln. Defense counsel Seward enters a plea of "not guilty" for reasons of insanity, the first such defense in American jurisprudence.

ALCOA HOUR on Sunday, March 17, has Nanette Fabray starring as a honky-tonk singer turned into a polished socialite bent on larceny in "The Original Miss Chase". The comedy is adapted from Frederick Lonsdale's play "The Last of Mrs. Chaney".

MISSION AT MID-CENTURY is a new Sunday series on WBEN-TV, showing at 1 p. m. The 13-week series, filmed in such places as Haiti, Alaska, Japan and Panama, relates the extraordinary deeds and work of missionaries of the Protestant Episcopal church.

HEMO THE MAGNIFICENT, second in CBS' special science series, will be presented on Wednesday night, March 20 at 9:00. Hemo explores blood and its circulation, probing the secrets of hemoglobin, telling the story as science has discovered it. "Mr. Sun" will be remembered as the first program in this science series.

NIGHT OF THE PLAGUE, Kraft Television Theater, March 20, stars Edward Mulhare in the story of a pathologist who performs an autopsy on a man and discovers that he was carrying a germ culture from a germ warfare station of a foreign ODYSSEY will trace the history of Russia in its March 31 program, "The Kremlin". The high spots of some 600 years of Russian history will be covered. CBS film editors have searched masses of old films for material and the Soviet consulate here has provided a film of the Kremlin as it appears today.

PAT BOONE, DAN DAILEY and dancer Shirley MacLaine will "guest star" the March 22 Dinah Shore Chevy Show.

"EMMY" will dominate the Saturday Color Carnival (NBC) from 9 to 10:30 on March 16. The 9th annual "tops" awards of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences will be made in 29 categories. The following personalities will appear on the "Emmy" show: Ed Sullivan, president of the New York chapter of ATAC; at the New York studio, Phil Silvers as emcee, Dave Garroway as spokesman for the Academy, and making the presentations will be Jimmy Durante, Ernie Kovacs and Peggy Wood. SPORTS SCENE

BOXING — Gil Cadill of Los Angeles, ranking fifth in the national featherweight ratings, meets another fast featherweight, Ike Chestnut of New York, in the NBC radio-TV headliner Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Chestnut is subbing for ailing Isidro Martinez, the threat from Panama, who was scheduled for this bout.

BASKETBALL should be seen at its best on the Saturday afternoon spots, March 16 and 23. CBS, radio and television, will carry the national invitation basketball tournament, one of the year's post-season attractions, from Madison Square Garden. The opener will see Utah vs. Memphis State. NBA professional basketball playoffs will be carried by NBC on March 16 and 23. On March 30, CBS will televise the East-West College all-state basketball game.

BOWLING, on channel 4 Sunday afternoon at 2, with Joe Wilman still on top. Bill Bunetta failed to upset Wilman last week and Judy McMann will challenge him this coming Sunday.

NBC TO TELECAST 1957

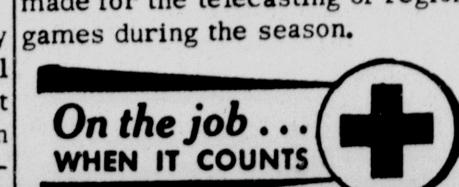

BASEBALL & FOOTBALL

NBC-TV network will carry a 26-game schedule of major league baseball games on Saturday afternoons during the 1957 season. Stations within fifty miles of a major league park will not be permitted to telecast. The schedule includes games of all teams in the National League plus these American League clubs: Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

The baseball series opens April 6 with an exhibition game between Brooklyn Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves of Dallas, Texas. The first telecast during the regular season will be a game between the Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs on April 20.

NBC also has a new five-year contract to carry the World Series and the All-Star Game. NBC has a nicely-rounded sports schedule of Saturday afternoon events including baseball, football, basketball, golf, tennis and horse-racing. The Friday night boxing matches have just been sewed up for another two years.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association has awarded NBC the 1957 telecast rights for the "game of the week" series. This provides for eight Saturday afternoon games and a Thanksgiving Day schedule of three games from various parts of the country. Provisions are also made for the telecasting of regional games during the season.

YOUR WEEK

In this day of commercialized "weeks" and "days" it is refreshing to see one move outdoors, as it will Sunday when wildlife week is observed by sportsmen's clubs throughout the nation. Locally the clubs will not do much in the way of special activities except to remind you about the pleasures of the outdoors and what you can do throughout the year to preserve those pleasures.

Most of the clubs spread their activities through the year and make no effort to concentrate any part of them into this one week. Perhaps more would be done if the week were at a time when the wilds were more attractive and there were some seasonable project that could be started.

However, we can utilize this time and this space to remind ourselves that wildlife is more than a sport; it is more than an economic part of our local business life; it is bigger than our pride in being able to shoot accurately or to skillfully cast a fly.

Healthy animals in the forests usually mean healthy forests. And there is little doubt that a major percentage of us now realize the value of the woodlands. Clean, edible fish in the streams suggest pure streams. The two, woodlands and streams, are inseparable. They complement each other.

It has been suggested by local, state, and national officials that as our part in wildlife week we familiarize ourselves with efforts to protect our natural resources and all related assets. These range from the soil, through the woodlands, down the streams, and include the wildlife to be found in all natural climes.

It may sound noble, you nod your head, and forget it. But it can be found very close to you. As close as the Allegheny river and the streams around you. Are they clean? Is the law being enforced to make them clean?

YOU KNOW THE TRUTH

We don't know anyone in a better position to learn the truth than the man who spends his leisure hours fishing and hunting. Or those who like to swim, or go boating.

Is our water supply adequate and is it sufficiently pure to permit these pleasures? In this area which is blessed with water in nearly every valley and a major river resulting from their accumulation, do we have all the water sports that you will find in far more arid spots?

Obviously we should be supporting the state in any effort that will clean up the streams. In fact we should be demanding that it do so. The decision by Warren this week to spend a million and a half to build a sewage plant will have far-reaching effects. With the Warren sewage removed, the land downstream will become much more valuable, and other communities will need to mend their own fences. They will be unable to blame pollution on those above.

If we provide good forests and wisely cultivate open fields, we will do much for our water supply.

By providing a good water supply, we will do much for our fields and woodlands -- and their inhabitants.

It is a cooperative and constructive circle.

You, of course, can do much more than just think about these things. If you like to fish and hunt you should join one of the many clubs in the area. If they are not doing as much as you think they should, we know of no better way to see that they assume more responsibilities than to join them and offer them the benefit of your wisdom and energy. If you believe they are doing a good job you should be doing more than reap the harvest. You should be one of them and doing your share.

Floods are costly in many ways. But to those who are interested in the outdoors the high water does more than fill cellars and wash out industrial plants. It also takes tons of good top-soil downstream. It erodes and wastes the land, very rich, lowland soil.

And the rushing waters do more than wash away valuable property. Because they are allowed to hurry to the ocean in this fashion, nothing is left in the summer months, and the same stream which roared at us in its might becomes a sickly, anemic thing. Its low waters lay bare much of the stream bed, and the unsightly mess that remains serves us in no way but bad. Droughts result, vegetation suffers, and the least (but most apparent to millions) of our troubles is the denial of many play time pleasures.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE? Because the sportsman sees these things, and should realize their far-reaching effect, he should be PENNSYLVANIA'S Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is 17-year-old Julia Reed of Sacred Heart High School in Pittsburgh. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills for gaining the highest score in the state in a written homemaking examination.

Girl Scout Week, March 10-16, 1957, will be celebrated by nearly three million girls and adults, the largest membership in Girl Scout history.

TO BE REMODELED This is the old maternity ward of Warren General Hospital that the directors will turn into a chronic illness and rehabilitation center at an approximate cost of $100,000.

NEW FIRE TRUCK Chief Charles Miller is pictured here with the new $13,000 1957 Ward-LaFrance pumper that has just been purchased by the Russell Volunteer fire dept.

The engine truck and pumper carries 500 gallon of water and will pump a similar amount per minute. It also has a built-in 110 volt lighting system.

The company sponsored an open house in Russell last Sunday with some 200 in attendance.

CARL WEINRICH, ORGANIST

Carl Weinrich, considered one of the greatest contemporary organists, will give a recital at the First Presbyterian Church in Warren on March 25 at 8:15 p.m. The recital will be played on the new Casavant organ installed this year at the church and will be open to the public.

Mr. Weinrich, known in this country and abroad as an interpreter of Bach, his contemporaries, and modern music, is organist and choir director at the chapel of Princeton University. He also directs the school's Glee club.

PROF. AMOS E. NEYHART

Professor Amos E. Neyhart, who is regarded as America's pioneer in Driver education, has been engaged to speak at a program being sponsored by the Warren County Motor Club at Beatty School auditorium on May 14. Cooperating in this event are the Warren County school boards and the drivers' education instructors.

Prof. Neyhart, a member of the Pennsylvania State University staff, will give his talk in conjunction with a driver training movie.

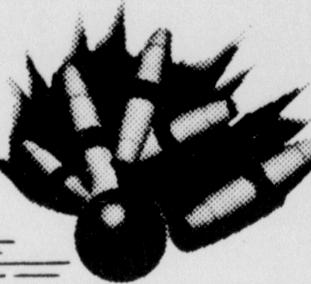

All prospective sophomore driver trainees and juniors now taking the course in Warren County will be invited to this program. Invitations may also be extended interested parents if space will permit.

The committee working on arrangements consists of Dr. Quay McCune, motor club president, Alex Fino, William Walker, Ed Lowrey, James Springer, Mary Corah and Neil Culbertson.

ELKS SINGLES

Paul Coppola won the Warren Elks singles handicap tournament which ended last Sunday. Paul fired 674. Bob Hill was second with 662. Other leaders were: Gib Hanson, 655; M. Endress, 651; Jim Scalise, 649; Emmy Morrison, 646; Phil Campbell, 644, and Ken Porter, 642.

MEN NEXT

The annual tournament of the Warren County Bowling association will start the week end of March 24. Deadline for entries is this coming Monday. The team event will be fired at the Penn, and the singles and doubles at the Bowldrome.

THE BIG BOYS

The sweepstakes being held in Buffalo, Erie, and Jamestown this spring will bring in some big names. The schedule of their appearance at the Ten Pin lanes in Jamestown reads like this: Friday, March 29, Lou Sielaff's Pfeifers will be there at 11:30. Buzz Fazio's Stroits will be there April 26 at 9:30. Steve Nagy also will be there then, suggesting that Steve and Buzz can make their date in Warren on April 27 for the Elk's banquet.

Carmen Salvino, Chuck Hamilton, and Earl Johnson will be seen at 3:30, April 14. Joe Wilman, Robby Robinson, and Chuck Wagner will bowl May 3 at 11:30.

May 3 will be a good date to pay a visit. Don Carter's world champion Budweisers also will be there that night at 9:30. Joe Kirstoff's Pabst Blue Ribbons visit the tournament May 6 at 9:30.

Admission may be charged for these special attractions which no doubt will pack the house.

LOCALLY

On the Warren alleys the Elks have completed their regular season and now enter the play-offs. Participating will be Grosch Brothers, Cersolsun, Check Brothers, and Lewis Market. High game for the year was Ed Larson's 245. High series was a 601 by Everett Hoagvall.

$4,500 for civil defense, $2,200 for soldier burials, $900 for headstones, markers, and flags, $800 for Memorial Day services, $500 for Company I, and $6000 for salaries.

Court house and annex maintenance, repair, and equipment account for $38,450. Elections and registrations cost $18,147. The treasurer's commissions and cost of collections total $20,900, and $46,700 is budgeted for probation officers, penal institutions, and the county jail.

The big items in the institutional budget are topped by the Rouse Home which costs $60,000. The Warren General hospital receives $10,000. The foster home board is given $20,000. Others are out-of-county homes, $12,000; Hoffman home, $1,000; Children's Aid Society, $2,500, and Crippled Children's committee, $1,000.

The effort in other news mediums to make the tax load look excessive is not very fair to the public and is apt to affect balanced thinking concerning other projects which the area must undertake. Actually the small millage required to do this assessing job will be paid and gone before the millage on other projects will start (such as the new high school). And in Warren, payments on Jefferson school will be ended by the time those on the high school start, leaving us with about the same tax load as far as school bonds are concerned.

... CHILDREN OF DISASTER

Your clothing, donated through Save the Children Federation's Bundle Days, brings hope and comfort to war refugees, earthquake and flood victims, people in need overseas.

... CHILDREN OF DESPAIR

Hundreds of needy rural American youngsters are now able to attend school during winter months because of SCF Bundle Days. Responsible authorities give clothing free to those families who cannot afford to pay. Clothing is also made available at very low prices — thus enabling a poor but proud people to maintain self-respect.

CHECK YOUR CLOSETS!

- ✓ Give only clean, wearable clothing — outgrown, outmoded, used or new children's and adults' clothes such as coats, dresses, sweaters, shirts, pants, socks, underwear, pajamas, sheets, warm blankets — already washed and mended.
- ✓ Give baby clothes — diapers, shirts, blankets and booties.
- ✓ Give good, wearable shoes, tied together in pairs — but NOT high-heeled shoes.
- ✓ Bring your gift of clothes and shoes in a paper bag or cardboard carton.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

The Market Keeps Changing

Strange things, as Red Buttons used to say, are happening. NBC announces that it is dropping its hour-long drama at 9 p. m. (E.S.T.)

Sundays, which started out as Philco Playhouse, is now sponsored by Alcoa and Goodyear, has been on the air for eight long years, and has always been one of my favorite programs.

In its place will go an hour-long music and variety show, presided over by Dinah Shore (every other week). What does this mean? Well, Miss Shore has been one of the most successful properties of the year, and Mr. Perry Como is now leading the ARB rating. Singers and professors from Columbia are hot stuff on TV this day. Tomorrow, who knows?

Meanwhile, Jackie Gleason and Sid Caesar are in serious trouble if you believe ratings and, unfortunately, many people do. Of course, both comics have been on the air quite a while now. The formats, the material, and, I'm afraid, the personalities have limits. The public can absorb so much and then it gets tired. And one of the things it seems to have got tired of is comedians. I don't mean comedy -- I doubt that it will ever get tired of that -- but I mean the stand-up comedian who stands before a curtain, tells jokes and gets away with it.

twilight. The signs indicate that about bloodshed.) Not only are Gleason and Caesar are having their problems. Red Skelton has been having his for years. Red Buttons has vanished. Of course, there are the indestructible Jack Benny and Bob Hope (who is smart enough to surround himself with Lana Turner, Wally Cox and Rosemary Clooney, as he did last Sunday). But when you look over your TV schedule you'll find darned few stand-up comedians anywhere on it on a regular basis. When you think of the line-up of stand-up comedians on radio and of how they dominated that medium, you realize there are almost none on TV.

What you DO find lined up all over the place is singers and cowboys. ABC has almost made itself the second TV network with its cowboys. Of course, you may argue that Wyatt Earp isn't a cowboy and neither, most of the time, is Cheyenne or, any of the time, Broken Arrow. But to me, anyone who rides a horse is a cowboy unless he carries a polo mallet. (If you don't pack a gun or a polo mallet, there's no point in being on a horse at all. The parking situation isn't that bad.)

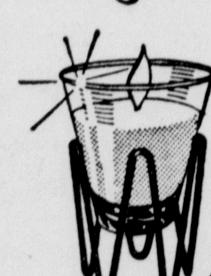

We are up to our ears in adult Westerns (which are adult only in the sense that the killers are neurotic, rather than just casual lunatic singers the teen-agers go mad over (Wally Cox). Hope also played in a sketch that I seem to remember from my childhood, about a guy who comes back from a hunting trip seven years later to find his wife (Lana Turner) married to somebody else. Then he played twin roles -- both the good guy and the bad guy -- in a Western with Rosemary Clooney. The guy certainly works for his money.

When the weather is sloppy, that's an extra good reason for paying your bills by mail — with our checks. But there are many other satisfactions in a checking account:

It frees you from worry about losing cash or having it stolen.

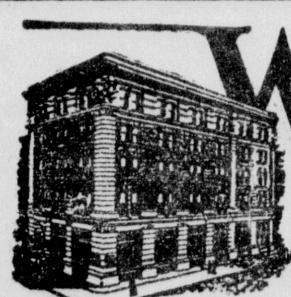

The canceled checks you'll receive from us are legal proof of your payments.

Your checkbook gives an accurate record to use in making out your tax returns.

TRY IT — open your checking account here next time you're in the neighborhood. You'll enjoy these conveniences!

OUR BANK MONEY ORDERS cost only 10c, REGARDLESS of amount. Compare that with what you'd pay for postal or other money orders!

MERLE DEARDORFF

Merle Deardorff, well known authority on Indian history, will be the guest speaker at the 38th birthday celebration of the American Legion that will be observed by Chief Cornplanter Post 135 and its auxiliary in the form of a tureen dinner at the post home 6:30 Saturday evening.

The address by the local man will deal with the Indian position with regards to the proposed Kinzua dam and Chief Cornplanter, for whom the post was named.

Vice commander Joseph Bunk is in charge of arrangements.
